Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 18 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Light rain continuing in the south, turning more persistent later.

This Evening and Tonight:
Some drizzle and light rain across parts of the region this evening, mainly in the south, becoming more persistent overnight. Drier further north towards Cumbria with occasional clear spells. Light winds and mild temperatures expected across the region. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Thursday:
A rather cloudy start with light rain in the south. Some improvement though with rain becoming patchier and some sunny spells into the afternoon, but showers returning in south later. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
A dry start Friday before persistent rain moves eastward through the afternoon. A mixture of scattered showers with longer spells of rain on Saturday. Further frequent heavy showers on Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.